More ideas for things to do:

Create your own story

What other adventures might the cheeky spider Anansi get up to? Use your imagination to create a short story about him. What other characters might he meet? Will he have another mission to complete? Add some illustrations of any new characters that you create.

Other stories

There are lots of other stories involving Anansi, see if you can find more to read or listen to. Think about the morals of these stories, what lessons are they teaching? What are you learning while reading about Anansi's adventures?

Share

- Make a video or take a photograph of your pom pom spider, can you make it move?
- Write your story in a book and add illustrations for others to see
- Write about what you found from the other Anansi stories and put them in a book for others to read
- Send them to your friends and family and school

Share them with us, we would love to see them:
